TIM TUCKER

Spirit of Collaboration Award

The Tim Tucker Spirit of Collaboration Award recognizes the outstanding achievement and dedication to collaboration that leads to partnerships with organizations outside of Augustana Care. This award recognizes the outcome of that collaboration.

Selection Criteria

When making your nomination, cite specific examples of the following:

Collaboration that:

1. Propels Augustana Care and its partner towards excellence in clinical services, fostering fullness of life, and/or innovation/creativity in a way that improves services to older adults.
2. Builds Augustana Care and partner's capacity to meet mutual Mission and/or Strategic Objectives through implementing new solutions or addressing complex problems in new ways.
3. Demonstrates synergy between organizations that can serve as a role model for others.
4. The collaboration/initiative should be something that has moved beyond a conceptual idea to something that has been implemented within the last two calendar years. With this particular award, it is the outcome of the collaboration (vs. an individual or group) that will be awarded.

Sample Letter of Support from Peer

January 23, 2018

Dear Nomination Committee,

I would like to nominate Polly Pureheart for the Augustana Awesome Excellence in Volunteerism Award. Polly has been volunteering for Augustana Health Care Center of Minneapolis for the past 5 years. She initially started to come to the facility while her mother was a resident. After her mother discharged, Polly continued to come to the facility. As a volunteer she visits with residents and helps with weekly with bingo. She has made a lot of friends, both with the staff and residents.

Polly visits with some of the more needy residents and she always is sweet and encourages the residents to remain active and participate in events, and even alerts the staff when new residents want to continue their game playing pursuits, like cribbage and bridge.. Even when residents are down or having a bad day, Polly's positive, can-do attitude is contagious and she makes them feel better. Because of things her mother went through, she can relate to some of the resident's frustrations and listens to the residents when they need to talk. Polly has the ability to anticipate the residents needs - like the time Polly brought in a large print Bible for one of our residents when their eyesight was deteriorating. Polly knew the important of this resident's ability to continue to read scripture each day.

Polly volunteers on the floor that I am stationed, and I have noticed that even the staff are happier when Polly is around. She is always willing to help the staff and the residents. I think she is deserving of recognition for all the work she does at Augustana.

Sincerely,

Ima Worker

January 24, 2018

Dear Nomination Committee,

I would like to nominate Polly Pureheart for the Augustana Awesome Excellence in Volunteerism Award. I have had the privilege of working with Polly for the last five years. Polly volunteers twice a week. As a volunteer she visits with residents and assists with bingo. She is a reliable and dedicated volunteer.

Polly is comfortable visiting with residents of all skill levels, including residents that aren't able to verbally communicate. She is always kind and thoughtful. Her greatest gift is her ability to look on the bright side of any situation. Her enthusiasm and positive attitude are contagious, both for our residents and our staff. For example, she works with one of our residents who won't participate in any other activities, but I always see him at bingo when Polly is there. Not only does he attend, but he has a smile on his face while chatting with Polly. I have overheard Polly reminding this resident how much he enjoys playing bingo when he complains that he might want to skip because he is having a bad day. She never forces a resident, but does encourage them to continue to do as much as they are able.

Polly has a strong faith, but never pushes her religion on any of the residents. In fact, she encourages each resident where they are spiritually. I have seen Polly read scripture with one resident and discuss the Koran with another resident.

Polly is willing to visit with new residents, especially those that are having a difficult time in their life. A transition from living at home to living in a skilled nursing facility seems to be made easier when you have a friend like Polly. Polly is a delight both for the staff and the residents. I would love to see her positivity and dedication to our residents and facility recognized.

Sincerely,

Ima Boss
